Marketocracy Masters 100_{SM} Fund (MOFQX)

The Masters 100 Fund is a diversified, “go-anywhere,” core fund that looks for pockets of opportunity across the entire market - in any sector or any style - to find performance. Over the years, the Fund has been characterized at different times as a small-cap, mid-cap, and all-cap fund and as a growth, blend, and value fund. That’s because the Fund doesn’t fit traditional categories. Why? Because Marketocracy strives to be in the right sectors, styles and stocks at the right time, so that when the market changes, you don’t have to decide when to change funds. That’s because the Fund is a “go-anywhere” fund.

To manage a “go-anywhere” fund, Marketocracy has pioneered a new approach to team investing which leverages an extensive farm system of investing talent. When the market changes, we change the team, so you don’t have to.

Principal risks associated with an investment in the Fund include Stock Market risk, Investment Selection risk, Investment in Other Investment Company risk, Stock Index Futures Contracts and Options risk, Portfolio Turnover risk, Small and Medium Companies risk, Foreign Investment risk, and Website Members Participation and Internet Reliance risk.

The Fund can invest in small and medium sized companies, which are often more volatile and less liquid than larger, more established companies and therefore increase the volatility of the Fund's portfolio.

The strategies used by the Fund's investment adviser in selecting Fund's portfolio may not always be successful. The investments may decline in value or not increase in value when the stock market in general is rising. Investments in foreign securities entail risks not present in domestic investments including, among others, risks related to political or economic instability, currency exchange, and taxation. Operation of Marketocracy.com's website depends on the continued availability of the Internet, both short- and long-term. Significant failures of the Internet could lead to interruptions or delays in the Fund's investment adviser's ability to manage the Fund's portfolio.

The m100 group, upon which the Masters 100 Fund's portfolio manager relies in managing the Fund, is comprised of individuals who may be amateur investors, not investment professionals, and are not employees of the Fund or its advisor. Their track records are based on the performance of a simulated stock portfolio on the website www.marketocracy.com.
